SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF GREENFIELD

Herewith is submitted my report on the condition of your schools for the current year.

The course of study follows as nearly as possible that recommended by the State Department for the elementary schools of New Hampshire. As that course is planned on the basis of six years in the elementary schools, and the seventh and eighth years organized as a Junior High school, the program has to be modified somewhat to meet our needs of eight years devoted to the elementary subjects. As it is we devote more time to Arithmetic, Geography, Spelling and some of the other subjects of the older program.

Especial emphasis has been placed upon the subjects of Arithmetic, English and Spelling. These are fundamental in the education of the children, and must be done well, if our schools are to function properly. Tests given in these subjects show that the children in your schools are up to the standard attained in neighboring towns.

In Spelling we have a list of common words, compiled by the Russell Sage Foundation called the Ayers list. It comprises 1000 of the common words in every day use. Each child, before leaving school, will be expected to spell and use correctly all these words. Of course, he must be able to know other words beside these, but this is a minimum list.

In number the use of the ordinary operations in Arithmetic must be so mastered that accurate and rapid work may be done. To this end much drill work, especially in the lower grades, is being done.

In English we are emphasizing the fact that children must be able to write and speak accurately and clearly their thoughts. Not so much work perhaps, is being put upon the formal grammar, except as this will aid them in attaining the standard mentioned above.

Of course, many other phases of school work are being done, but these are the things that are being emphasized particularly.

REPAIRS

The condition of the school building now is very satisfactory. The lighting in both rooms comes from the proper direction, and the tinting and painting that was done during the summer has added greatly to the appearance of the rooms and the hallways. The proper heating of the rooms in very severe weather is somewhat of a problem, and perhaps cannot be solved adequately until either a furnace or jacketed stoves are installed. This would also solve the problem of more thorough ventilation for the rooms.

The matter of toilets is also something that should receive attention as soon as possible. The toilets here are fully as good as are ordinarily found in small communities, but the disadvantages connected with such places are many. The chemical toilet is solving the problem very satisfactorily in many schools. These are easily taken care of and are sanitary, and, I believe, in the building here, could be so located as to obviate the necessity of the children having to go out of doors to reach them.

ATTENDANCE

The statistical table of attendance and other data is appended to this report.

Regularity in attendance and punctuality are two of the very important factors in the education of a child. It is impossible for a child to make proper progress in his school work if his attendance is irregular. A day lost cannot be made up fully, and a child's whole attitude toward school can often be gauged quite accurately by the regularity and the punctuality with which he attends. And the attitude of the parents can be seen quite as clearly. In addition, if a child, in school, acquires the habit of irregularity and tardiness, these traits are apt to follow him in life. We cannot emphasize too strongly the necessity of regularity and punctuality in attendance, not only because of the child's present good, but because of his future welfare as well.

The percent of attendance for last year was 88.9, and the number of tardiness was 107. This latter shows an improvement over the preceding year. The percent of attendance is not up to the state average which is about 91% and a fraction. For the first 18 weeks of the current year the percent of attendance has been 90.3%, and the number of tardiness 49.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Through the efforts of the teachers and pupils, and the interest of the community, a victrola and a number of excellent records has been purchased. This was made possible through sociables and entertainments given by the schools. Every school building should be equipped with one of these instruments.

Last year a class of three graduated from the eighth grade, and this year there will be a class of six. Nearly all have gone on to High School, there being eleven in attendance at some High School at the present time. This is a good record. So far as I know all are doing good work, showing that their preparation in the schools here was adequate.

HEALTH WORK

The war brought prominently to the front the problem of health by centering our attention on the fact that a large proportion of the registrants under the selective service act were rejected on account of some physical disability. Of course, we have no way of knowing how many of these defects could have been avoided by attention earlier in life, but the number would probably have been large. There is a strong trend these days toward the school assuming more responsibility in the proper development of the child. The children here have an annual examination by a physician, and this in the past two years has been thorough. Notices of defects discovered have been sent to the parents. But at this point, in the great majority of cases, the matter stops. Parents do not give much attention to the notices, and no remedial action is taken. We need a nurse or some agency, to follow up these cases and see that proper steps are taken to remedy them. At the school meeting the district will have an opportunity to consider the subject, and I trust that serious thought will be given it.

In closing permit me to express my appreciation to all who have by their interest and cooperation helped to make the work in the schools successful.
